taking advantage of natural surroundings

modern design adhering
to university neighbourhood
design guidelines

With fantastic views to the North of the valley below, the Thompson River and the surrounding mountains, these two buildings make the most of this opportunity, with large private decks, plus a large common amenity deck on the top floor of each building.

In keeping with the university design guidelines, each building utilizes timeless materials and proportions, as well as large windows and colours in a contemporary arrangement.

Both buildings have their top floors slightly stepped back from the floors below to be respectful of the human scale and the neighboring university buildings.
