

education learning centre

18028

client

SD No. 43 (Coquitlam)
Meighan Scott
mescott@sd43.bc.ca

location

Coquitlam

size

4,822 m²

value

$22.6 million

status

Under Construction
Est'd November 2021

status

DIRTT Office Partition System
Glulam Roof Structure
Large Glazing Walls
Multiple meeting spaces International Education component

bringing collaboration to education
coquitlam's school district's new headquarters

The Education Learning Centre for Coquitlam School District is designed to replace their existing School Board office and combine many other programs and departments together on one site. The building consists of a mixture of primarily office spaces and meeting rooms with an International Education component. The use of large glazing walls and the DIRTT office partition system allowed for a flexible open design concept which intends on bringing the outdoor natural light into most interior spaces. There was an ever growing need within the District to provide more spaces for meeting and School Board meetings for the ongoing collaboration between the School District and the Public. The facility will serve as the headquarters for all new School District development, ongoing Information Services and Education throughout the ever expanding School District.